

Events in the Social Realm

The ladies of the M. E. church acted as hostesses for a large number of members and friends of that church last Friday when all united in giving a cordial welcome to the new pastor of that church, Rev. J. B. Carns, and the teachers of the city schools. The church was prettily decorated with vines and flowers, the definite color scheme being yellow and white. The program included many pleasing numbers, among which were: trio by Miss Hattie Renswold, piano, Messrs. Carl and Paul Thomas, cello and violin; welcome address by A. T. Lunn; vocal solo by Miss Eva Duncan, with cello obligato; piano solo, Miss Ruth Leonard; readings, by Miss Gifford; vocal solo, Miss Nell Acheson; piano solo, Norman McCorkle. Light refreshments were served and everybody entered into the social atmosphere of the evening and a very pleasant time is reported.

Miss Laura Mounts entertained on Saturday evening at her home, 504 Cheyenne avenue, at a very enjoyable dinner party. The event was in compliment to her friend Miss Mabel Worley, who is soon to leave with her parents to spend the winter touring the west coast. The company consisted of the following lady friends: Misses Alta Young, Anna Senner, Mable Mosher, May Graham, Eva Duncan, Florence Aiken, Ruth Rice, Hattie Renswold, besides the hostess and guest of honor. A six-course dinner was served at 6:30, and was delicious, according to reports from the participants. The table was decorated with a miniature train and the appointments were pretty little suit cases with the initials of each guest on one end of the case, all of which was suggestive of traveling.

Mrs. W. R. Pate entertained at a 1:30 luncheon at her home, 932 Box Butte avenue, on Saturday afternoon last. The rooms were prettily decorated in the autumnal shades and presented a most pleasing appearance in the glowing colors. The luncheon which was very delicious was served in six courses, and the hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Geo. Gaddis, and the Misses Nell Acheson, Beulah and Dorothy Smith, Edna Bowman, Beatrice Pate, Marie Kibbie. The invited guests included the following list: Mesdames C. C. Smith, A. T. Lunn, Nellie Wilson, L. M. Tash, J. A. Hunter, W. W. Norton, Ward Norton, Earl Mallory, J. G. Dole, W. R. Harper, James Gaddis, H. J. Kuhn, J. G. Beck, E. T. Kibbie, H. J. Ellis, L. N. Worley, D. J. Nelson, A. V. Gavin, C. K. Hershman, M. M. Reynolds, A. K. Reynolds, Ray Crawford, J. S. Rhein, Rolla Wilson, W. L. Vernon, B. J. Sallows, C. J. Mackie, W. D. Fisher, Lee Baye, K. J. Beckwith, J. C. Morrow, C. L. Emerson, Margaret Patmore, S. K. Warrick, Geo. Gaddis, of Alliance, and Mrs. J. H. Moist, of Long Beach, Calif. The early afternoon hours were pleasantly spent with some contests which had been previously arranged, and Mrs. J. A. Hunter and Mrs. W. W. Norton won prizes in competing for same. A very social and informal time was spent, and the guests found Mrs. Pate to be a charming hostess.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church were entertained at dinner Sunday at the home of Mrs. W. S. Acheson, 419 Cheyenne, Wednesday afternoon of this week. A large number were in attendance, and a very social time was enjoyed. The ladies assisting Mrs. Acheson in serving were Mrs. Geo. Gaddis, Mrs. A. P. Brown and Mrs. E. C. Drake. The meeting was the occasion of the regular monthly banquet of the society, and the repast served was appreciated and satisfying.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Highland very pleasantly entertained at dinner Sunday the new Dean of the Alliance Deaneery and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. William S. Shaw, and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Holsten. A very social time was enjoyed, and we are sure Dean Shaw and wife appreciate finding themselves located among such pleasant surroundings and friends.

The ladies of the Baptist church are planning on serving a "harvest home" supper Tuesday evening, October 19, at the Baptist church parlors. This supper will include chicken pie and we are sure everyone will find enough other good things to eat, which will repay them for attending in large numbers and with large appetites.

At the Presbyterian church last evening, Miss Grace Hooper, state superintendent of the Junior Christian Endeavor, spoke to a company of interested workers and was very well received. Her talk was both instructive and entertaining, and it is hoped that she will visit Alliance whenever the opportunity presents itself.

Miss Charlotte Mollring entertained at a theatre party Monday evening in honor of Miss Maud Moist. Included in her list of guests were the Misses Mildred Campbell, Irene Elee, Dorothy Smith, Beulah Smith, Hazel Kibbie, Cynthia Davenport, Hazel Bennett, Nelle Tash, Nelle Keeler, Eunice Eldred, Edna Bowman and Maud Moist. After a very pleasant time spent at the theatre, the party were entertained at the parlors of the F. E. Brennan drug store, at which time a toothsome lunch was served the party, Miss Mollring acting as hostess for the other young ladies.

The Rebekah circle No. 104 met in their hall in regular session last Friday evening. General business was taken care of, and anticipated work for the future discussed.

The Baptist Ladies' Aid met in their church parlors Wednesday afternoon of this week. Lunch was served to a good number of friends and guests and a general informal time spent together.

The dancing party given in compliment to Miss Maud Moist of Long Beach, Calif., last Thursday evening was very much enjoyed by all in attendance. The music, which was of the right kind, and the punch to refresh the gay dancers, added to the pleasant occasion. The invited guests included the following list: Misses Hazel Bennett, Irene Rice, Charlotte Mollring, Ruth Rice, Eunice Eldred, Nelle Tash, Cynthia Davenport, Mildred Campbell, Ruth Morris, Gertrude Green, Maud Moist, Blanche Kibbie, and Messrs. Norman Newberry, Geo. Keogh, Frank W. Chas. Harlick, Harold Judd, Orville Davenport, Roy Close, Frank Abbe, and W. R. Metz.

The high school faculty and members of the alumni, also the Latin Club, were pleasantly entertained on last Friday evening, the members of the Virgil class acting as hosts to the company, at the home of Miss Janet Grassman. The house had been tastefully decorated in the autumn colors for the occasion and a delicious lunch was served at the close of the enjoyable evening hours. The Misses Marian Grebe, Marian Mote, Edna Bowman, Janet Grassman, Hannah Cotant, Helen Schott and Dolly White were pleasing hostesses, and all the guests report a delightful time.

The members of the Royal Highlanders, castle 143, gave their opening ball of the season last Thursday evening, and according to reports, the occasion was heartily enjoyed by all of the members and friends who participated. About a hundred couples were present to enjoy the event, and the music furnished by Mrs. Arnes Duncan and Floyd Mackleburg was very good and suited the "airy eliders". A very fine banquet was served during the evening and the repast proved to be most satisfying. Dancing was enjoyed until the wee hours of the morning, and the participants are looking forward to other er events of a similar nature, which have been promised them. The success of the affair is partly due to the energetic management of Deputy Amariah Johnson, who is spending some time in town, working in the interests of the Royal Highlanders' castle, and we are sure his efforts are appreciated. Mr. Johnson, who is a representative of the executive committee, delivered an address on "Fraternalism", which proved to be most interesting and entertaining.

The ladies of the guild of the Episcopal church met at the parish house yesterday afternoon, and a very social time was enjoyed. A large company of the ladies and friends were present, and Mrs. A. V. Gavin and Mrs. W. O. Barnes proved pleasing hostesses.

Mrs. R. G. Pearson and Mrs. Ella Young entertained their Sunday school classes in the gymnasium room in the basement of the Presbyterian church, last Friday evening. The party consisted of girls and boys from the two classes, and a game of basket ball was entered into with enthusiasm. Refreshments served at the proper time added to the enjoyment of the time, and we are sure the young folks appreciated very much the efforts of their interested teachers.

Mrs. W. W. Norton will entertain the Woman's Club Friday afternoon of this week and the program will consist of a roll call of members, who will answer with some current event; book review by Mrs. Claudia Dole; table talk, consisting of odd bits of information; and a vocal selection by Mrs. J. S. Rhein. The leader for the afternoon's program will be Mrs. Ada Spencer. The club has instructive programs both in its local and federated work and we are sure that the ladies will enjoy the hours spent on this occasion.

The shower given in honor of Miss Beulah Smith, at the home of Mrs. W. R. Pate last Saturday evening, was enjoyed by the guests and guest of honor as well. The event proved to be very informal and the four-course luncheon served was a pleasant feature of the occasion. The gifts were heaped on a large table, and after the delicious repast was over the table was pushed into the center of the room and the bride-to-be invited to inspect the loving remembrances from the different girl friends. There were many useful as well as ornamental articles among the collection, and we are sure that the recipient will many times think of her friends in the old home town as she goes soon to make her home in some other locality. Among the list of invited guests at the event are: Misses Nell Acheson, Edna and Hazel Bowman, Blanche and Bessie Kibbie, Maud Moist, Hazel Bennett, Cynthia Davenport, Mildred Campbell, Elvira Williams, May and Ethel Graham, Dollie Hageman, Avin older, Ruth Rice, Hattie Renswold, Leone Mallory, Nell Tash, Ruth Leonard, Florence Albie, Nell Keeler, Dorothy Smith, Edna Benedict, Nellie O'Donnell, Alta Young, Eunice Burnett, Ethel James, Marian Grebe, Charlotte Mollring, Janet Grassman, Laura and Glenn Mounts, Mabel Mosier, Helen Schott, Mabel Worley, and Miss Muriel Westervelt of Scottsbluff, and the honored guest, Mesdames Jerry Rowan, C. C. Smith and Claude McDonald assisted Mrs. Pate in serving.

The entertainment committee appointed from the Royal Highlanders castle have arranged to give a social dance every Thursday evening following the regular meeting of the castle. The large class, which will be ready for initiation, at the first meeting in November, will be royally received, and it is expected that President W. E. Sharp of Lincoln will be present and assist in the program.

Mrs. C. E. Maynard and Mrs. J. Trefney very pleasantly entertained a company of twelve ladies at a Kensington at their home Tuesday afternoon of this week. A delicious lunch was served and a very social time spent.

On last evening Mrs. Jerry Rowan entertained a party of young ladies in compliment to Miss Beulah Smith, the occasion being a handkerchief shower to the one soon to go from among her many associates. The table was all in white with a miniature bride in the center, under which were arranged the handkerchiefs attached to ribbon streamers. The guests were seated at a five-course dinner by place cards which bore some initial or something in remembrance of each individual. Mrs. W. R. Pate, Mrs. C. C. Smith and Mrs. B. Ponath assisted the hostess in serving. The Misses Charlotte Mollring, Dorothy Smith, Mildred Campbell, Ruth Rice, Edna Bowman, Janet Grassman, Eunice Burnett, Dollie Hageman, Nell Tash, Leone Mallory, were among the list of guests who attended the event, and all enjoyed a very informal and pleasant time.

Ben Anderson went to Omaha Monday to have a consultation with an eye specialist.

County Superintendent Opal Russell is the possessor of a new Ford car, purchased from the Keeler-Courney company this week. She will use the machine mostly in visiting the schools over the county. This will greatly facilitate the work by enabling her to visit more schools and to stay longer at each one.

Arthur C. Reeves, a Casper capitalist, was in Alliance Saturday attending to business matters.

Within an hour after her arrival here from Gillette, Wyo., Sunday on No. 44, Mrs. Albert Varney gave birth to a fine large baby. The ambulance was at the station to meet her and she was taken immediately to the hospital. Dr. McEuen was taken on the train at Hemingford, although an effort was made to persuade Mrs. Varney to leave the train at that point. The train waited for fifteen minutes at Hemingford until a doctor could be summoned to accompany her to Alliance.

Every man is entitled to at least one good suit, overcoat and pair of shoes, and every one can afford the outfit. Dress Up! You'll feel better, and your associates will feel better, too.

Word has been received that Wm. King is recovering rapidly from the effects of an operation which was performed by Mayo Bros. at Rochester, Minn.

P. D. Gleason, Alliance manager for the Bell Telephone company, is busy this week covering the surrounding towns and securing data for the company which will be used in the A. T. & T. directory. This interesting book is issued every two years, and gives a list of all the companies doing business in the United States and Europe, and the nature of their equipment. This directory gives the Bell people, and in fact other people, a correct idea of how the country is supplied with telephone service. Mr. Gleason's territory takes in thirty-three towns, including Crawford, Rushville, Sidney, Bridgeport, Chadron, and a number of smaller places.

J. L. Williams, the real estate man, went to Broken Bow Monday for a few days' visit with his family and to attend to some business matters.

You probably can't afford a $100 outfit, but you can be the possessor of at least one good suit, overcoat and pair of shoes. They don't cost much, but, oh, what a difference they do make.

A. V. Arnold, chief clerk to Division Superintendent Weidenhamer, and wife, are in Omaha this week visiting with friends.

D. D. Hayward, representing the American District Steam Company of Chicago, departed Wednesday for Minden, Nebr. Mr. Hayward had come to Alliance to caplain the steam heating proposition.
